Education News Across the Globe

NEW SCHOOLS VENTURE FUND INITIATIVE

Educators in Title I schools are being invited to participate in a NewSchools Venture Fund initiative to blend math instruction in grades 3-8 with lessons that build students' executive function skills, such as working memory and being able to focus on a task. Funded by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and the Chan Zuckerberg Initiative, the five-year grant program – with $9 million awarded in the first year – will bring educators together with researchers and developers to design tools that “work for real teachers and real students.” Melina Uncapher, the director of the EF+M program and a neuroscientist at the University of California San Francisco, said during a media call. Source: EDUCATIONDRIVE

UAE STUDENTS EXCEL GCSE EXAMS DESPITE FORMAT CHANGES

Replacing the previous letter grades format to the new 9-1 or “9 to 1” number grades format, students reportedly got best ever results despite the tough exams. Students across the UAE and other GCC countries received their Pearson Edexcel International GCSE results, which were awarded using the new nine-point grading scale (9–1), introduced by the UK government to raise standards and recognise top-performing students. Over 5 million GCSEs and International GCSEs are awarded using the 9–1 grading scale worldwide, including in the UK, making it the most used and recognised grading scale for GCSE and International GCSE globally.
